may be spread about the pasture, yard or stables and contaminate the feed and water. Cattle may eat, drink or lick this contaminated material.

Man may acquire Undulant Fever by drinking raw milk from infected cattle. Actually very few people who drink infected milk develop the disease but it is one of the most important sources of infection in man. Pasteurization kills the bacteria. The bacteria may also enter the body through cuts in the hands.

Losses from brucellosis are calculated in the value of the lost calf, the value of the decrease in milk production and the value of the occasional cow which has to be discarded due to sterility. The losses to cattlemen in this district was very high last spring. It amounts to millions in all dairy countries.

Veterinarians can take a blood sample from each animal, forward the blood to the Veterinary Laboratory in Edmonton and in 48 hours after it reaches there, he will know if there is Bang's disease in the herd.

Many livestock men prefer to follow a yearly program of calf-hood vaccination. Calves are vaccinated between the ages of four and eight months to develop a resistance against Brucellosis. If this program of vaccination is

WHEN THEIR SHIPS docked at Portsmouth, Eng., recently, Royal Canadian navy cadets from the three-ship Canadian training flotilla took time out to visit the RN establishments in the historic port. CARBON GRAIN CLUB REPRESENTED AT 4-H CONGRESS, BOZEMAN, MON.

LEVEL LAND — Daun Buyer of Carbon, living near the Level Land district, and a member of the Carbon Grain Club represented the Southern Alberta Farm Clubs at the 4-H Congress at Bozeman, Montana. The other members touring were: Jean Syrnnyk of Heinz Creek in the Peace River district; Marie Scheidegger of Ohaton; Ronald Goeglein of To-field, and the chaperons, Miss H. Andreassen, Home Economist of Westlock, and Mr. J. L. Anderson, District Agriculturist of Medicine Hat.

For the past five years, Montana and Alberta have been exchanging farm young people to exchange club work ideas and create goodwill between two neighboring farm countries.

This trip to Montana is considered the second highest award that a junior agricultural club member can achieve; the trip to Toronto being the highest.

The Congress lasted four days and compares to our leaders' week, club week and three days' elimination at Olds.

The Alberta delegates left Aug. 25 and the Congress began Aug. 27.

The theme discussed at Bozeman was "Working Together for World Understanding."

Our Alberta delegation discussed with the Americans and other foreign delegates from Scotland, Norway, Switzerland and exchange college students from Hungary, Tehran, Haiti, and Hawaii how to work together for world understanding.

Coming home, the group spent three days touring places of interest in Montana. They went to Yellowstone Park, Lewis and Clark Caverns, Glacier Park and Waterton Park.

Daun Buyer has a number of years of club work to his credit. He is a member of the Avondale Golf Club, Carbon Grain Club and Forage Club. Hard work is what gave Daun this fine reward.

Daun can truthfully say, with the 4 H leader, Paul Moore, that one gains a great deal and has an improved attitude toward foreign countries. It is as the girl from Scotland stated: "We are the same in the big things, but we differ in the little things." It is in these little things we must learn to understand each other.

ing the in-between seasons, when calves are few in number and widely scattered.

It is unfortunate that there is not a Veterinarian located in the Kneehill M.D. He must be brought from Drumheller or Olds. It is not economical for either of them to drive long distances to vaccinate two or three calves at $1.00 each. It is also true that they are very busy in municipalities included in a Bovine Brucellosis (Bang's) Restricted Area. In those areas they do not drive past herds, where there are calves which should be vaccinated, to do calves for cattlemen who appreciate the value of this service.

The new president of Canadian Union College, Mr. Johnson, was guest speaker at the S.D.A. Church on Saturday, Sept. 8.

Mr. Chester Roth of Crockett, California, is renewing acquaintances in this district. Chester is a former student of the Level Land School.

The Agricultural Service Board can arrange annual vaccination. They will draw up itineraries and turn over lists of calves to the Veterinarians to do the work in their own time. They make their own collections and provide their own transportation. It is the opinion of representatives of Service Boards, that this is the fairest to both veterinarians and cattlemen. The former can do work when required by the cattlemen, and be freer to take care of emergency calls. A few scattered cattlemen have requested vaccination service during the past summer. Their names and location were forwarded to the Veterinarian.

As soon as two-thirds of the cattle owners of the Kneehill M.D. are willing to sign a petition requesting a Bang's Restricted Area, it will be forwarded to the Alberta Minister of Agriculture through the District Agriculturist, M. N. F. Bell, at Drumheller. The Restricted Area will then be administered by The Agricultural Service Board and the Veterinarian.

BANG'S DISEASE

By W. S. BACKMAN
Field Supervisor

THREE HILLS — Livestock men in Alberta are fortunate in that there are only a few diseases of cattle to combat. Many diseases which cause tremendous losses among livestock in other countries are not present here. But Brucellosis or Bang's disease is important in this district and does cause serious losses. Bang's is important, too, because the infection is transmissible from animal to man, and will cause Undulant Fever.

The most common manner in which Bang's disease is transmitted to a clean herd is through the introduction of an infected animal. The disease may also be contacted by placing healthy cattle on a common pasture with infected cattle.

The disease is spread mostly at the time of the abortion of a brucellosis infected animal. The afterbirth, the fluid in the membrane of the foetus, and the discharge which may persist for several weeks after the animal has aborted are teeming with Brucella bacteria. The infected material

Delivery Quotas

The initial delivery quota of 6 bushels to the acre will seem like old times to Alberta farmers. Times during the recent war when wheat at half its present price was glutting the storage facilities all the way from the seaport terminals back to the storage bins on the farms.

However, times have changed in one respect. We can clearly see from this distance an end to the wheat storage problem before the start of the next crop year. Besides, farmers are better able to get lumber and other building materials with which to build bigger and better grain storage sheds on their own property.

It would be wise for every Alberta farmer, as he eyes his standing crop or busily swaths, cuts or combines it, to determine his likely need of home granaries and build accordingly. Then, this extra storage space, readied for the 1951 bumper crop, will be there for future emergencies.

The Government and the railroads have taken extraordinary steps to provide for the forthcoming rush of wheat and other grains to country elevators. But they can't do everything, and there is a great deal the individual producer can do for himself.

Calgary By-Election

The Conservatives have already established Carl Nickel as their candidate in the forthcoming election in Calgary, to replace Mr. Smith who resigned.

This constituency, of course, is an urban area and Calgarians aren't the kind to have outsiders tell them what they should do or how they should vote. Whether the Conservatives or the Liberals win it won't make much difference to the House of Commons in Ottawa, as the Government has such a big majority now.

An important point, however, is that Calgary is still largely dependent on agriculture and cattle raising for its existence. (Ever hear the term "cow town?") It takes great pride in its annual stampede and exhibition. We doubt if a man whose sole interest in promoting the oil industry, will be able to serve well the majority of Calgary constituents.

Besides, the Conservative party, by holding back on an election long after the former member announced his resignation, has effectively disenfranchised this constituency for nearly a year. We wonder how Calgarians, oil town or cow town variety, like that.

Spiritual Failures

With the prospect of a bumper crop in 1951, we in Alberta can pat ourselves on the back for success in material things. But wealth won't give us happiness unless we are spiritually rich as well. Arthur Toynbee expressed it as follows:

Man has been a dazzling success in the field of intellect and "know-how" and a dismal failure in the things of the spirit, and it has been the great tragedy of human life on Earth that this sensational inequality of man's respective achievements in the non-human and in the spiritual sphere should, so far at any rate, have been this way round; for the spiritual side of man's life is of vastly greater importance for man's well-being (even for his material well-being, in the last resort) than is his command over non-human nature.

Let us renew at this time our quest for the things of God, food for the spirit, that will not only enrich our material resources but our souls as well.

The Fantastic Fish Pond

By T. W. PUE

Just a half mile south of Onoway is a little lake, comprising 40 acres of reed-bounded waters. Many years ago some enterprising pioneer dropped a few perch in the lake, and for years since, it has abounded with countless fish.

In Onoway they say you can catch 100 fish in an afternoon, and no matter how many are taken out, the lake is teeming with them. They are small and then because the lake is so small and there are so many of them, they are half starved all the time.

It would be a good idea if, once a year, permission could be given to someone to catch as many as possible with a net and transport them alive to the wide expanses of Lac Ste. Anne.

By the way, I tried my luck for an hour last week, and lost a dozen salmon eggs without catching a fish. Seems they were nibbling but not biting.

FROM LENINGRAD FRONT

If you served in the recent European war it was your duty to shoot George Schadler, if you could. But if you tried it today you'd run afoul of the law because George, who spent two years in Hitler's army in the Leningrad sector on the Russian front is now a valued citizen of our country. He is doing mighty useful work at his job with Herman Walters, Massey-Harris dealer, in Onoway.

George was lucky to be wounded just before the fall of Germany in April, 1945. Now only 24, he was barely 16 when drafted into the German army and escaped being taken as a Russian prisoner by being in hospital at the time of the armistice. By posing as a civilian he made his way to the British sector and as a displaced person was eventually accepted by Canada as an immigrant.

He has three other brothers who fought in the German army. One was taken prisoner by the British and held in England as a prisoner of war. He is still in England, a prisoner of love, having met and married an English girl.

George speaks English, Russian and German. He likes Canada and would like to see his brothers immigrate to Canada, too.

THIS DIET BUSINESS

Ever since The Edmonton Sun carried the fat boy's diet in a series of articles, hundreds in Edmonton and Northern Alberta who have been carrying around useless excess weight have become diet conscious.

Not, indeed, like the character the other day who stumbled into an hotel cafe where I stopped to eat supper and incoherently ordered "Something to eat." The waitress asked him what he wanted and he mumbled, "I'll eat anything, I ain't on any diet." Seems the guy would drink anything, too!

A very useful aid in dieting is to have one of our Fat Boy diet charts. In a humorous, light-hearted manner it tells you how many calories you should eat each day, to lose weight, and what foods will give you the required calories. By using this system I reduced from 230 pounds to 205 and feel better for it.

If you seriously want to rid yourself of that extra load of fat and flesh, write the Fat Boy Editor, 10815 82 Ave., Edmonton, and ask for a diet chart. They are free, but please enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope with your request.

The Figures Don't Reconcile

(From Camrose Canadian)

The Lethbridge Herald, whose opinion we respect as being most sincere, has come out with a defence of the Quebec farmers in the little matter of income tax. One only has to glance at the over-all figures to see that agricultural Quebec is not carrying its load in respect to income taxes. The cattle ranchers in Southern Alberta alone pay more income tax than the entire farming industry of Quebec. The suspicion is, and to us it seems quite justifiable, that no particular effort is made by the Income Tax Branch to collect income tax from the Quebec farmers, while at the same time the organization is quite militant in its collection from farmers in Alberta.

The Lethbridge Herald's explanation that the large families and smaller farming units in Quebec are a sufficient explanation is hardly good enough to satisfy us. We're proud of Alberta's cattle industry but do not feel that it should bear more than its share of taxes. If Prime Minister St. Laurent wants to develop a spirit of unity in Canada he might well start in on the Income Tax Branch and its operations in Quebec.

TOO GOOD, TOO CRANKY

Dear Sir—President Galo Plaza of Ecuador said that democracy without liberty of the press is impossible, and that it's no help to have a press that only praises the government. To this I would also add that it's no help also if the press pans the government almost every day. I like your paper because it's half way in between—not too good, and not too cranky.

AIR RAID CONFUSION

Dear Sir—I hear some talk that they are going to put up air raid sirens in Edmonton. Why have those silly sirens at all. In case of an actual attack what could we do—stick our heads in the refrigerator? Instead of pouring billions into Europe, why not build air raid shelters for our people here?

Dear Sir—Seeing that all religious groups condemn profanity, I wonder why so many people resort to this practice. Even in your last issue two of your correspondents use the word "damn." Of course, this is moderate profanity, but it's bad enough, and I protest.

Dear Sir—I agree with the soldier who said to me that it would be unfair to the fine young men in our armed services to have to serve alongside muggers and hoodlums. Indian Reservation May Be Abolished

The day may come when Indian reservations will shrink and disappear in Canada because they are not needed, according to a retiring official of the Indian Health Service.

Dr. E. L. Stone, of Edmonton, has been regional superintendent of the service for Alberta, the Alaska highway and the Yukon since 1946.

"We won't see it in this generation," he said, "but the Indians will progress to the time when reserves will shrink and not be needed."

Stone said the Indians had made "enormous" educational and social progress for a primitive people.

The two companies filed separate notices of appeal in Calgary, each listing 55 identical grounds for challenging the judgment handed down by Chief Justice W. R. Howson last May 9.

The judgment said that Michael Borys, owner of a farm which his father bought from the CPR in 1906, was the owner of the natural gas under his 160-acre farm. The CPR retained petroleum rights when the land was sold, but the oil cannot be removed without use of the natural gas found with it.

Chief Justice Howson made permanent an interlocutory injunction which prohibited the companies from using the gas in removing their oil from the land.

The next sittings of the Alberta Appeal Court in Calgary open Oct. 15.

Imperial Oil and the CPR alleged in their notices of appeal that the findings of fact, the reasons for judgment and the judgment itself were contrary to law, evidence and weight of evidence relative thereto.

They alleged that the Chief Justice should have held in the reservation reserving to the CPR all coal, petroleum and valuable stone the word "petroleum" was used in its broad, generic and technical sense and that coupled with the word "all" it would include natural gas.

Nurses, Miners, Engineers Head List Of Help Wanted Throughout Alberta

Alberta's employment picture is "brightest in years" with an outlook for continued full employment, according to a bulletin from the National Employment Service.

The demand for farm laborers, especially those for haying crews, is heavy in the province.

Experienced miners are also in demand with Drumheller, Edson and Blairmore needing both certified coal miners and underground laborers.

Employment in packing plants is at a seasonal level and there is a very light turnover in personnel.

Blairmore reports that all the sawmills in the district are running full time and there is a heavy demand for mill hands and general labor.

The glass and pottery industries are in the middle of a slack period and the only employment is open to former employees who had to be laid off.

Local NES offices throughout the province are continuing to receive orders for extra gang laborers for the railroads.

BUSINESS GOOD

Edmonton wholesale firms report that business, especially in the machinery and building material lines, is very good. Although there is a heavy demand for workers the orders are being filled quite easily.

Women are finding it slightly harder to get jobs. Single, experienced stenographers are in heavy demand, but there is the usual surplus of inexperienced or unsuitable sales clerks and general office workers.

The high demand for domestic workers is expected to rise even higher. But employment officials state that it is hard to interest women in these jobs.

There is still a short supply of registered nurses and all Alberta hospitals have orders for them on file with the NES.

The nurses' placement officer in Edmonton reports that there are eight openings for matrons, and three nursing schools require operating room supervisors.

Laundries and dry cleaners are currently in their busy season and the demand for wool and silk spotters, as well as pressers, is high.

All holiday relief orders were filled very easily with married women and students.

According to the NES many employers on the prairie provinces are beginning to hire handicapped and older persons.

High school students have been placed fairly easily. Only ten percent of this year's graduating class have yet to find suitable employment.

Those students who do not possess a high school education are finding things a lot harder. Most of the jobs open to them are in construction fields.

Very few veterans, excepting those in the older age groups, have yet to be placed.

Engineers of all types are practically unavailable and there are many vacancies open for them.

The demand for junior engineers seems to have been well met by the graduates from universities, and the only engineers available are those who are seeking a change of jobs.

Senior geologists, construction engineers and experienced superintendents are also in heavy demand, and there are no men available to fill these vacancies.

Only about 70 of this year's graduates from the Universities of Alberta, Manitoba and Saskatchewan, are still registered with employment offices. About half of these are females, mostly grads of the arts courses. Most of these girls have temporary employment, but are seeking work more related to their academic training.

While the number of unfilled vacancies in Alberta has gone down to about half what it was last year, there are very few extra jobs.

The number of registrations and placements of persons has nearly doubled since this time last year, with the number of unplaced servicemen dropping heavily.

Insurance claims this year are just half the number up to the same period last year. The Unemployment Insurance Commission has had about $250,000 less to pay out in unemployment insurance.

War Vet Tries Crime When Business Fails

A former resident of Edmonton, and lately of Toronto, was handed a three-month hard labor sentence in police court Wednesday.

James Simms was given four three-month hard labor sentences, to run concurrently, on three convictions of false pretences and one of theft.

The trouble all started when Simms, a pensioned war veteran, tried to set up his own packing plant. He collected the money as down payment on equipment he sold in Lindley, Bonnyville, and Bruce.

Two of the false pretences charges arose out of incidents such as these, while the theft charge was laid when he took cash from Chow Hong of Bonnyville to pay for supplies from the company. Simms pocketed the money himself and failed to deliver the ordered goods.

The third charge of obtaining money under false pretences arose when Simms sold his car to an Edmonton man for $1,275. The only trouble was that the car had a $550 lien against it.

The accused appeared in court clean-shaven and well dressed. He explained that he was willing to pay full restitution for his crimes.

Simms said that up until the time he committed the crimes everything had been rolling along smoothly, and he had had complete faith that he could fulfill the contracts. Then along came a series of circumstances, which he admitted were all his fault, and he was forced to crime.

He then moved to Toronto, where, after four years, his remorse caught up with him and he surrendered himself to the Toronto police.

Magistrate Main granted a degree of leniency to the man due to the fact that Simms had had no previous criminal record.

The Canadian Legion is helping Simms with his restitution as well as providing him with a legal advisor. Due to the fact that he is a veteran the Legion is also helping him to collect back pensions for the time he spent in Toronto.

She Thought Corpse Didn't Need Cigars

ATLANTA—(BUP)—Bill Reed was laid out in his casket just the way he requested—with three cigars in the coat pocket—when friend Katie Dunn came along, jerked up the body by the necktie and took the stogie away.

"That's a heck of a way to bury ol' 'Bill,'" Katie said.

Bill's widow, Louise, called police and had Katie arrested for disorderly conduct. When her case came up, Katie told Judge A. W. Callaway she was "only straightening Bill's tie."

The widow interrupted.

"It's a wonder you didn't take the matches, too," she told Katie.

At this point Katie placed herself on the mercy of the court, saying she did not know of Bill's desire to be buried with the cigars. She was fined $28.00.

Seven Hurt In Brawl In Vancouver Apartment

VANCOUVER, B.C.—(BUP)—Seven persons were hurt in what police described a "slaughterhouse brawl" in a two-room apartment in downtown Vancouver Saturday night.

The bloodletting came as police carried out a bootlegging raid in the area.

Three were hospitalized and four others injured in the melee involving three women.

Hospitalized were Muriel Simpson, arm cuts; Cyril F. Wilson, cuts to the arm, lip and cheek; and John Fitzpatrick.

Detectives identified the others injured in the melee as Ronald Fontaine, Ethel McLean, 22; a man known as "Oscar," and his unidentified female companion.

Cause of the fight was not immediately known but it was believed the battle with knives, broken chairs, lamps and other bric-a-brac, started with an argument over a $50 bill claimed by one of the women.

Neighbors said the battle lasted 30 minutes. The suite was left a shambles. Blood was splattered on the walls and on the bannister leading from the suite to the street.

LOUIS GALLOWAY, whom RCMP arrested recently in Hamilton is believed to be Canadian boss of an international dope ring headed by Charles Luciano from Italy. Galloway's bail has been set at $10,000.

THE RCAF custom of cutting a student pilot's tie after his first solo has survived the years and even the high cost of living. When a student completes his first solo flight, fellow-students cut his tie off and tack it on a board with those of other students who have soloed. Here, Acting Pilot Officer W. A. Beagles, of London, Eng., RCAF student in training with the RCAF at Gimli, Man., has his tie cut by Acting Pilot Officer P. M. Hogg, of Birmingham, Eng., left, and Flight Cadet F. W. Carr-Hilton, of Kelowna, B.C.

SCHOOL CRISIS FLARES IN B.C.

MAILLARDVILLE, B. C. — (BUP) — The controversial Roman Catholic school question may split the Maillardville, B.C. Provincial Liberal association into two factions.

Frank McDonald, president of the political group has called a special meeting for Tuesday, at which time tempers are expected to flare-up.

At this time, the majority of the 11-man executive may resign, as parochial schools fireworks rekindles in this largely French-Canadian community.

Publicity chairman Maurice Lizee, of the Church school board, said the majority of the executive would resign in protest against the government's failure to provide financial assistance to the Parochial schools. He said the split might lead to a loss of 3,000 votes to the Liberal party in the province.

The issue flared into the open last April, when Roman Catholic children were taken out of their own schools and sent to public schools in protest against the government's failure to recognize what they termed "their just rights."

Council Backs Plea Of Pottery Workers

MEDICINE HAT, Alta. — (BUP) — A local of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers has received the support of the Medicine Hat city council in its quest for government action to help the pottery industry.

The council supported a union which said the industry should be protected against "unfair foreign competition."

Convicted 16 Times For Gambling

WINNIPEG—(BUP)—A Winnipeg man who had been convicted at least 16 times on gambling charges during the past ten years, was fined $200 in city police court for operating a crap game.

Peter Barnes pleaded guilty to the charge and heard Magistrate M. H. Garton warn him to give up gambling activities.

The owner of the house where the crap game was held was fined $100 and ten persons found on the premises were fined $10.

THE NEW STEM RUST INVASION (The Red Raider Raids Again!)

Stem rust of wheat, known to the older farmers of Western Canada as "The Red Raider" or "The Red Peril" is on the march again. In 1950, after it had been under practical control for more than 10 years, stem rust invaded the fields of North Dakota, South Dakota, and Minnesota, and stole at least 8 million bushels of wheat from the farmers of North Dakota alone.

The Cause. Why all this alarm about stem rust? Well, in 1950, for the first time, a new kind or race of stem rust, identified by plant pathologists as Race 15B, became widespread and prevalent throughout the "one giant wheat field" that extends from Mexico to Canada. Race 15B is the most virulent (vicious) race of stem rust ever found in North America. It can attack and destroy all of the varieties of common wheat and durum wheat now commonly grown in Canada and the United States. The varieties Thatcher, Regent, Apex and Redman, cannot withstand the withering and killing effects of Race 15B.

The Problem. The immediate problem is that of developing a variety of wheat that will stand up against Race 15B of stem rust. If western grain growers are to be protected from the scourge of rust, it is imperative that our plant scientists be given the necessary tools to do the job — more money for fundamental research, more trained help, more greenhouses and more land. In plain words, increased appropriations for rust research.

A Responsibility. It is up to the farmers, the grain merchants, the business men and the people of Western Canada to see to it that the necessary financial support is forthcoming. Up to the present, Canadian plant scientists have fought a winning battle against rust. But a new invasion threatens! Given adequate financial support and time they can, and will, control stem rust.

The Petroleum and Natural Gas Conservation Board reported that daily oil production during the week ending September 3 was more than 60,000 barrels less than in the preceding week.

Average production during that period was 125,000,331 barrels. A week earlier, it averaged 171,000,576 barrels daily.

Production in the Redwater field dropped from an average of more than 96,000 barrels daily to about 70,000 barrels a day. Leduc Woodbend output averaged about 33,000 barrels compared to more than 45,000 barrels a week earlier.

Puck Stampeders Sign Five Players

CALGARY, Alta. — (BUP) — Five members of last year's Stampeders Hockey Club have been signed up to play for Calgary this year in the Pacific Coast Hockey League.

Lloyd Turner, manager of the club, announced that the club had signed goalie Russ Dertell, defenceman Bob Gilhooly, and forwards Norm Larson, Don Anderson and Archie Scott.

Turner said any other members of last year's Western Canada Senior league team who thought they could make the club would be given every chance.

The hockey club announced there would be no increase in prices over last year, despite the fact that club expects to spend more for players of professional grade.

The Stampeders will start workouts at the old Victoria Arena in Calgary, September 20. They will play their first game against the New Westminster Royals October 9.

100 Persons Flee Montreal Blaze

MONTREAL—(BUP)—Nearly 100 persons escaped into the street in their night clothes in an early morning two alarm fire which raged through a row of buildings here. Heavy fire and water damage was caused to a tailor shop, lunch room, laundry, night club and several rooming homes.

CALGARY GIVES AWAY 14 STETSONS BUT 6 OF THEM WERE BY MISTAKE

CALGARY—(BUP)—The city of Calgary has presented cowboy hats to 14 persons this year, and six of them were given away because of a misunderstanding.

Mayor Don Mackay said that the cost of the white Stetsons totalled $229.50.

Eight hats were presented to title winners in the North American figure skating championships early in the year. Only two hats were to have been presented to the skaters, but officials of the meet misunderstood the city's proposal and told six other championship winners they would receive hats. The city presented six additional Stetsons to avoid disappointing the skaters.

Other pieces of the western

The Edmonton girls downed the Toronto squad to take the best of three finals series.

Toronto won the first game 4-3 Wednesday, and Edmonton came back to edge their way into a third game last night defeating the Toronto club 5-4.

The games were played at the Canadian National Exhibition Stadium, before large exhibition crowds.

The Mortons were pitched to their victory by clever Muriel Coben.

According to present plans, the Mortons will return to the West immediately, scheduled to arrive in Edmonton Tuesday.

Letter to Louisa

Dear Louisa — My husband and I have been married six years and have three small children.

We have had business reverses and have not been able to have a real vacation all during these years. Naturally we are both tired and nervous but my problem is this:

His family is well off and spends some time each summer at the beach. They have asked him to come down for a week but haven't asked the rest of us as they haven't room, so they say. His mother thinks he needs a rest and, of course, he will make a nice fourth for bridge. One of the family has remarked that I am selfish because I say we should all take our vacation together.

Do you think it is right for me to be left with the care of three small children, day and night, while he goes to the beach? My husband says he doesn't see anything wrong in their leaving me out and he thinks his family is very nice to pay his way for a week. What do you think?

Worried—Penn.

Answer:
I think your in-laws are selfish, and your husband is immature and thoughtless.

If they were really thinking of your best interests as a family, they would help you have a vacation together. They would give some thought to you and your children and not put themselves on the back for doing something they, themselves, will enjoy.

As for your husband, he acts like a little boy. He forgets that he got married for better or worse and in sickness or in health. Unless he is on the verge of a nervous breakdown, he should share all the bad times, as well as the good ones with you.

I don't see how he can be in need of a rest any more than a woman who has had three children in six years and very little money to operate on.

A husband and wife should stand together. They should resent discourtesies to each other as much or more so than such acts to themselves.

LOUISA.

The Lighter Side

Wise Woman

Student—To whom was Minerva married?

Professor—My boy, when will you learn Minerva was the goddess of Wisdom? She wasn't married.

Easy For Them

"Dad, did you have to learn to write and speak French when you were at school?"

"Yes, son, why?"

"Oh, I dunno! To me it seems a waste of time trying to do something the French do so much better."

Clever Boy

A little boy came home from school and announced to his mother: "I'm in a fine fix at school. The teacher says I have to write more legibly and if I do, she'll find out that I can't spell."

Better Stay

Funeral Director (to aged mourner)—How old are you?

Aged Mourner—I'm 97; he 98
next month.

Funeral Director—Hardly worth going home is it?

The Finisher

Lawyer: "You say your husband is a finisher; what does he finish?"

Witness: "Well, just now he's finishing his third term in prison."

Better Than None

Mistress—Mary look at this
dust.

Mary—Well, ma'am that's better than no coverin' at all.

Sharp Pupil

The English teacher had been reading to the class about the great forests of America.

"And now, boys," he announced, "which one of you can tell me the pine that has the longest and sharpest needles?"

Up went a hand in the front row. "Well, Tommy?"

"The porcu!"

BOY SCOUTS around Galt, Ont., have one of the finest community lodges in Canada as a result of residents donating material, labor and equipment. Finished in Galt, the building was moved in one piece to a site 14 miles away where concrete foundations were waiting for it. Drugs and surgical equipment were also donated.

Mrs. K. Schmaltz Passes

BEISEKER — St. Mary's Church, Beiseker, was filled to capacity on Monday morning at 10 o'clock with relatives and friends who came to pay their last respects to Mrs. Katherine Schmaltz, widow of the late Andrew Schmaltz, who passed away on Saturday, Sept. 8, 1951, at the age of 57 years.

Mrs. Schmaltz had been a resident at Beiseker for 40 years. Her husband predeceased her in 1940.

Mrs. Schmaltz was a member of the Catholic Women's League for many years and was greatly loved by all the community.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Jerry Schissel, Mrs. Stan Olsen and Pauline at home. Also four sons, Frank, Tony, and Raymond of Beiseker, and Nick of Vulcan; and nine grandchildren, one sister, Mrs. Tom Hagel and one brother, Gabriel Schwengler.

Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Tennant.

Pallbearers were the four sons, Tony Hagel and E. B. Hagel. McInnis and Halloway were in charge of arrangements.

Blames Gov't For Lack Of Television

WINNIPEG, Man. — (BUP) — A top Canadian radio manufacturing executive said "television is knocking on our door but isn't allowed to come in" because of the backward attitude of the Federal government.

S. L. Capell, vice-president and general manager of the Philco Corporation of Canada, said Canadians already might be enjoying television if it were not for the "let's drag our feet" attitude of the government. "Every time the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation fails to establish stations by appointed dates it comes up with some feeble excuse about inability to obtain steel for towers and equipment."

In the 1948-1949 trapping season more than 160,000 beaver pelts were taken in Canada, more than in any other recent year.
